3.-Cattle-Receipts, 160; shipments none. A usual on Saturday there were not many fresh arrivals of cattle, but more than a week ago and a year go. The market was quiet, most local killers claiming they were well supplied, but a very fair clearance was finally made at about steady prices, compared with the way equa kinds sold yesterday. The receipts this wee are 800 smaller than last week and 200 smalle the same period last year. On account of the continued scarcity of choice stock the market has not been brisk this week, and prices were not up to the expectations of salesmen, but a greater part of the week it was easier to find buyers at more satisfactory prices for the good stock than those current at the close of last week There was no big demand for stockers and feeders, and common to medium cattle of all kinds were about as badly neglected as usual, but at the close of the week the pens were very well cleared.
